Dear Walt:

On behalf of the TechSoup and Renewed Computer Technology (RCT) planning team, we thank you for your participation at the 5th annual International Computer Refurbishers' Summit (ICRS 2008). Your presentation was very well received and inspired delegates to engage in conversation and communicate thoughts and ideas on related industry topics.

As the reuse industry continues to grow, it is important for us to remain diligent in the pursuit of our organizational goals and convey information, experiences, challenges and successes to one another. The focus of ICRS 2008 was to provide an opportunity for delegates to engage in dialogue on e-waste while highlighting the positive impacts of Reuse on the social, economic and environmental aspects of both the local and global communities. Your contribution to the Summit helped us to realize that goal.

Thank you again for taking the time out of your busy schedule to share your expertise at ICRS 2008. We fully recognize that we would not have received such positive feedback from Summit delegates without the excellent presentations provided by dedicated individuals like you.

Sincerely,

Jim Lynch
